Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.

For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened.

Or what man is there of you, whom if his son ask bread, will he give him a stone?

Or if he ask a fish, will he give him a serpent?

If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your Father which is in heaven give good things to them that ask Him? —Matt. 7:7-11.

Feeders' Day, University of Alberta

Every year the Animal Science Department of the University holds Feeders' Day. The date this year is Saturday, June 6th. The day starts at 10:00 a.m. Any farmer who has livestock should attend this day. All the experiments in livestock feeding and breeding which have been carried out in the past year are discussed. There is an open question period in each section. Lunch is available on the grounds of the University Farm at a very nominal charge. If you have any interest at all in livestock, this day will be of value to you.

Fertiliser for Lawns

In order to keep your lawn looking its best it must be fed. Two applications per year of fertilizer, one applied in the spring and one in July will help to do this. In this area the best fertilizers are either 16-20-0 or 27-14-0 at a rate of 6 pounds per thousand square feet. If you water your lawn it is better to wet it down 6 to 10 inches every week or ten days rather than give it less water more often. A lawn should also be cut fairly frequently. Try to keep it cut at a height of about 2 inches for best results.

Scholarships

Many of those who are graduating from High School this summer are probably thinking of further education at University or other schools. Expense is one of the problems, but don't just give up because of this. Every year there is financial assistance in the form of scholarships and bursaries which are not claimed. Be sure to investigate this possibility either by writing to the school you want to attend or by contacting this office for information.

Cutworm Control

If cutworms are damaging your crop, don't wait until it is too late before taking action. The Chemical Endrin is available and the cost of treatment is about one dollar per acre.

Graduation Ceremonies Held for Eleven Graduates

On Friday, May 29th the Irma High School Graduation Ceremonies began with the graduates marching into the school auditorium as Mrs. Glasgow played the piano accompaniment.

Following "O Canada" Rev. L. D. Sheardown gave the Invocation.

Mr. Gunn, who acted as master of ceremonies throughout the program, made the address of welcome and said a few words concerning the rewards, both tangible and intangible, of the teaching profession.

Mr. Hill, Chairman of the Division Board, outlined recent changes in education.

The Grade eight girls sang "Morning Bell" and "Follow the Glean."

Mr. Ronaghan introduced the graduates, pointing out aspects of each student's personality as seen from the teacher's point of view.

Graduates introduced were: Jean Darling, Joan Patterson, Carol Matthews, Linda Daniels, Carol Fisher, Michael V. Hyfte, Robert Morse, Jack Atkinson, Marion Bruneau, Lawrence Matwchuk and George Nemyo.

Carol Matthews and Joan Patterson gave Valedictorian addresses; Carol speaking of school years past; and Joan dealing with challenges to be met in the future.

The Grade nine music class presented two songs, "Little Church in the Wildwood" and "Alma Mater."

Robert Morse gave the Class Will and George Nemyo gave the Class Prophecy.

Mr. Hill, the chief speaker for the evening, brought a two-fold message. Speaking to the audience he emphasized the importance of the work being done by those in educational pursuits. Speaking to the graduates he used the letters of the word PROFIT to spell out valuable attributes developed by education. "F," he said, "stands for faith in yourselves, and you'll find it is absolutely essential."

Following Mr. Hill's address, the High School Band played the "Skaters Waltz" and led in "God Save the Queen."

The auditorium, which had been beautifully decorated by the Grade eleven class, was then cleared of chairs for the very enjoyable dance which followed. Lunch was served in the school lunchroom.

The best wishes of the community go with the "Class of '59."

Premier Douglas speaks at beginning of construction of South Sask. River Dam

"The building of the South Saskatchewan River Dam can be a turning point in Saskatchewan's history. With its completion I feel confident that this province will move forward to the high destiny which we all believe lies ahead," Hon. T. C. Douglas, Premier of Saskatchewan, said at ceremonies marking the beginning of construction on the dam.

"The South Saskatchewan River Dam constitutes the largest and most expensive single project ever undertaken by the province of Saskatchewan," the premier said. Referring to the federal-provincial agreement on the project he noted that while the federal government will pay 75 percent and the province 25 percent of the costs of the reserve itself, the province will pay 60 percent of the costs of the total project, or about $110,000,000. "This will be a worthwhile investment," he said, "as it will provide future generations with a greater measure of stability and tremendous opportunities for expansion and development."

Litter bag for car use now issued

—THE REVIEW, Revelstoke, B.C.
A new weapon in the war against untidiness on B.C. roads has been launched by the department of recreation and conservation in conjunction with the B.C. and Yukon Junior Chambers of Commerce and the department of highways.

The Hon. Earle C. Westwood, minister of recreation and conservation announced that distribution of a junior garbage gobbler litter bag will begin immediately through the parks and fish and game branches of his department and through a province-wide undertaking by the Junior Chamber.

The new bag, a printed replica of the popular green and orange garbage gobbler erected at suitable points throughout the province last year, is designed to hang in the tourist's automobile. It is attractively printed and on the reverse side contains a map of the province with pertinent information on camping and campsites.

Bags will be available at campsites, motels, restaurants and service stations or through local Junior Chamber of Commerce offices.

FORK ROASTS

Cook pork roasts uncovered in moderately slow oven (325 deg.F.) until well done (internal temperature 185 deg.F., as indicated on meat thermometer). The cooked meat should be greyish white in color with no trace of pink, parveiment. Mr. Douglas, in general, allow 45 to 60 minutes per pound roasting time. (For complete cooking chart see "Meat, How to Buy—How to Cook" available for 50 cents from Queen's Printer, Ottawa, Ontario).

and tremendous opportunities for expansion and development."

"The future of Saskatchewan," he said, "depends on our ability to diversify and stabilize our economy." He then pointed out the many advantages to industry and agriculture of the new power and water resources to be developed.

In reviewing the past history of the dam the premier said: "The idea of a dam on the South Saskatchewan River has been tantalizing the imagination of the people of this area for 100 years. A report written by a surveyor from Toronto in 1859 recommended a dam at almost the same point, a dam 85 feet high and 600 to 800 feet long, which would provide uninterrupted navigation for steamers of large size for a distance of 600 miles."

Premier Douglas noted that while navigation was the chief thought in the minds of the planners of 1859, "today we are building a multi-purpose dam to provide water for irrigation and industry, urban water supply, power, and sites for recreational development."

"In 1919," he went on, "a delegation to the provincial government petitioned for a dam for irrigation purposes. In 1938, M. J. Coldwell asked for a Royal Com-

"A TURNING POINT in the economic history of Saskatchewan." So Premier T. C. Douglas termed the beginning of construction at the South Saskatchewan dam site. Completion of the dam and flooding of the reservoir is expected to take six to eight years.

PREMIER T. C. DOUGLAS, who arrived by air, was met at the Outlook landing strip by an STC bus bearing the remainder of the provincial party. Following a barbecue luncheon at Outlook's River Park, the group continued by bus to the South Saskatchewan dam site.

The Black Sea, Yalta, and Odessa in Soviet Union are highlights in Cunard liner Caronia's 52-day cruise

In her 10 years of cruising, the Cunard Line's world cruise liner Caronia has crossed and recrossed many times the major seas of the world and presented her passengers with exciting moments ashore in numerous far-away lands. Yet another intriguing port-of-call will be opened to Canadian travellers, when the green-hulled Caronia steams through the Dardanelles and the Straits of Bosphorus to enter the Black Sea for the first time. The new call will be during a 52-day Autumn Mediterranean and Black Sea Cruise which is scheduled to sail from New York October 3. Rates for the 14,000-mile voyage start at $1,000.

Crossroads of Europe and Asia, the Black Sea basks most of the year in a warm climate and harbors many health resorts. Warm southern sunshine, beautiful mountains and valleys, and lush subtropical vegetation surround its coastline.

Yalta, gateway for trips into the Crimean Peninsula is the Caronia's first port-of-call. Here passengers will have an entire day to explore the Chekhov Museum, former home of the Russian dramatist; the Nikitsky Botanical Gardens with its acres of rare flora; or, the Livadia Palace of Czar Nicholas II, setting for the Yalta Conference.

Leaving Yalta the 34,000-ton Caronia heads northwest for Odessa, biggest city of the Black Sea ports. Once an outpost of ancient Greece (its name probably was derived from Odysseus) Odessa is also the cultural center of the Southern Ukraine. Here passengers can visit the many art galleries or tour the vast catacombs which run for miles beneath the city. Main attraction in Odessa is the Opera House, where through special arrangements by American Express, the Caronia's passengers will view a rousing performance of folk dancing and singing by the Ukrainian Dancers, who were a great success at last year's Brussels World's Fair.

While passengers will find these visits to the Soviet Union stimulating, this fabulous Autumn Cruise has barely begun for them. For, as the fully air-conditioned Caronia leaves Odessa and retraces her route through the Dardanelles, ahead still lies the exciting prospect of visits to 12 alluring ports bordering the Mediterranean. Throughout the cruise the Caronia will serve as the passengers' hotel.

THIS HEN HAS SOMETHING TO CROW ABOUT!

It tapered 5"x7" and, when scrambled, made a breakfast for the entire family of six!

Current Comment...

The outlook for Canadian farmers is even more uncertain at the start of the current growing season than in previous years, according to the Bank of Montreal's Business Review for May, just issued. Not only do they face the ever present uncertainties of market and climate, the review says, but also significant changes in the government's farming "ground rules."

The world wheat surplus continues as a "particularly intractable problem," and this year mounting stocks of certain Canadian livestock and dairy products have emerged to complicate the outlook further, the bank says. "In addition," the review continues, "the federal government has lowered some of its support prices and in doing so has endeavored to reshape its price support policy so that the benefits will accrue mainly to the small farmer."

Teenage motorists tend to get poor grades in school, are the worst accident risk on the highways and face a flabby physical future — these ominous trends highlight a national report on youthful "car craziness" in the recent Maclean's magazine. While police, parents, teachers and health authorities are justifiably worried, it's the psychologists who are most concerned, writes Eric Hutton. "Some of them," he says, "warn that the teenager's car, as the chief symbol of soft living, may debase him mentally, physically, spiritually and morally to the point where, like the enervating public baths of ancient Rome, it leads to the decline and fall of a nation."

Three out of four of the 350,000 Canadian teenagers licensed to drive are boys, reports the article. While teenage girls have low accident records—lower even than their fathers—male teenagers tend to be reckless.

National Water Safety Week is June 14-20. Recently it seems almost every week is dedicated to observing something and we wonder if all this spotlighting of special subjects is necessary. No doubt some of these "weeks" we could do without. But when we consider this particular one, we realize that focusing attention on the need for caution in and on the water could mean the difference, for some of us, between days of living and a tragic death.

Therefore we are following the lead of the Canadian Red Cross Society in urging everyone to become water safety conscious, to learn the rules of conduct at beaches and on boats and to practise them diligently at all times.

We sincerely hope that this warning, printed now, will be taken to heart by the people of our community so that later in the summer, this newspaper will not be printing items of the death by drowning of one or more of our neighbors.

Baseball Banter

The Shamrocks extended their winning streak to six straight games this weekend as they topped money in the Strone Ball Tournament in that town Sunday. They played three games in immediate succession to win their second tourney of the young season. The Spring Lake team went down to an 11-0 defeat at the hands of the locals in the first game which only went five innings. Joe Makar went the distance for the Viking team. In the second encounter, the Shamrocks knocked out the Loughheed entry by a 6-3 score with Kevin Gleeson being relieved by newcomer Ron Gates in the fourth inning. The Killam Braves put up a good fight for the first two innings by a tying Viking club. The final score in that game was 9-3 as Ron Gates struck out 11 of the 20 batters to face him to lead the locals. Lenzie Akers hit the club's only homer of the afternoon.

In the line-up for Sunday's games were Butch Fischer, Bob Dunbar, Gabriel Brissard, Larry Proctor, Ron Prior, Ralph Walker, Len Josephson, Len Akers, Ron Gates, Joe Makar, Kevin Gleeson, Lloyd Andrukow.

Now with the club are Ron Gates and Len Akers, both from Wildwood, Alberta, who are working with the Department of Highways here. Gates, young southpaw pitcher, played with the Vancouver Mounties of that coast city and the Cold Lake Cardinals before coming to Viking. Akers, who comes directly from Wildwood, is a star centre fielder and can also hold his own at the plate.

Good Government IS NEVER OUT OF DATE

VOTE: H.A. RUSTE, Social Credit

Inserted by Wainwright Social Credit Association

News Report From Edmonton

EDMONTON—At week's end a total of 306 candidates had been nominated for the 65 seats at stake in Alberta's June 16 provincial election, and there was a possibility a few more might turn up by nomination day June 4.

Social Credit led the pack with 64 official candidates and one unofficial one. The unofficial candidate is R. Earl Ansley, running in Leduc riding as an Independent Social Credit but with the blessing and support of the Social Credit League.

Progressive Conservatives were close behind with 59 candidates chosen, while Liberals (whose 15 members made up the official Opposition in the last Legislature) had 46 candidates in the running. CCF trailed with 30, and there were 35 Independents.

Fifty-five of the candidates named so far are members of the last House seeking re-election. Social Credit is again in the lead, with 36 of its 37 members running again. The only one not in the running is Dr. W. W. Cross, retired minister of health.

Eleven of the 15 Liberals are running for re-election, and all three Conservative M.L.A.s are in the running again. One of the two CCF members is taking another crack at provincial politics, while four independents are up for re-election.

It appeared at week's end that at least two independent members of the 13th Legislature will be backed by both Liberals and Conservatives in the forthcoming vote. They are Frank Gainer, running under the official label of Coalition in Banff-Cochrane riding, and Bryce Stringam, running as an Independent in Bow Valley-Emmerson.

So far the election has failed to produce any startling issues, and campaigning has been dull. Liberals are leaning heavily on their "Twelve Points for Progress" platform announced earlier this year, and are attacking the government for failing to find municipal finance problems, for ignoring the troubles of farmers and for deficit spending.

Liberal Leader Grant MacEwan is saying the government should devote as much effort to finding markets for Alberta's surplus farm products as it does to finding markets for the ailing oil industry.

Conservatives are joining the Liberals in playing for the farm vote. Last week Tory leader Cam Kirby, speaking at Lamont, promised a Conservative government would set up an independent board to study means of reducing the cost of rural electrification.

Social Crediters are relying almost entirely on the government's five-year development plan, but are also stressing the record of the Social Credit administration and explaining that deficit financing isn't really deficit financing when you have money in the bank to cover it.

The five-year program appears to be a powerful political weapon. One of the most potent parts of it is the government's plan to put initial blacktopping on some 200 miles of secondary roads in the province this year, and candidates are using this to make political hay.

Mammoth election rallies appear to be a thing of the past. There will be more emphasis this time on radio and television talks by candidates at prime listening and viewing hours, and more small neighborhood meetings in private homes.

Leaders of the three major parties — Mr. Manning, Mr. MacEwan and Mr. Kirby — have all started tours through the province to make speeches at key points, but these meetings aren't being carried out on the scale of past elections.

We watched the Socials and the Liberals putting forward their platforms on television last week. Premier Manning, Highways Minister Gordon Taylor and Provincial Treasurer E. W. Hinman need more coaching before they can become professional TV performers. All three read their speeches.

Liberals MacEwan, Richard Hall, Athabasca, and Art Soetens, St. Albert, put on a better performance. They may have had their talks memorized, but more likely they were reading from cue cards. At any rate, it looked better.

Another important part of this year's campaign will be legwork, especially in the cities and towns. Many candidates have already been busy knocking on doors and introducing themselves to potential supporters.

We spoke to one young couple living in the Edmonton riding of Strathcona East, Premier Manning's constituency. They hadn't considered voting for anyone but the premier until a personable young man came to the door one day, introduced himself as the CCF candidate, and chatted to them about the election. Now they're not sure how they'll vote.

Prague Picnic Was Successful Affair

(From The Viking News)
Ideal weather and a large crowd greeted the annual Prague Picnic held last Sunday. Visitors from many points in the surrounding area including Edmonton, were in attendance enjoying the dinner and sports.

The Viking Little Leaguers and Nu-Way Cleaners Little Leaguers from Edmonton, played a five-inning game resulting in a 2-2 score in which the players on both sides made some sensational catches and played good ball. The three star selection was Douglas Pratt, pitcher for Viking; Leech, pitcher for Viking; Maurice Chomic for Viking. They will play again at Viking at the CWL picnic on June 14th.

In senior fastball, Prague won over Kinsella Tigers; Irma defeated Killam; and in the finals, Irma defeated Prague.

Winners of the draw for prizes: Mrs. Mary Hardy held the lucky ticket for the twenty-dollar bill, and Mrs. Julia Chibbeek, the hamper.

THE HOMEMAKER

ANNOUNCEMENT

Assisting with our achievement days, fair camps, garden tours, judging competitions, etc., this summer is Nataka Semotich.

Nataka is originally from Newbrook and has completed her second year in Home Economics at the University of Alberta.

Prior to attending University she was an active 4-H Club member for four years and in 1956 won a trip to National Club Week in Toronto.

In addition, she will also be assisting Miss Edith Zawadzki, District Home Economist at St. Paul and Mrs. Donna Westendorf, District Home Economist at Lamont.

DRESS UP YOUR SALAD:

One of the simplest ways to make a quick change in the salads you make is to use a different dressing—or at least to make some additions that will give more zest. French dressing is the simplest of the basic dressings. Here are additional ideas for ingredients.

1 cup oil
½ cup cider, malt or tarragon vinegar
Salt, pepper.

The flavor of the dressing is improved with an increase in the proportion of oil to vinegar, the ideal being about three to one. Added seasoning may be used, such as paprika, onion and celery salt, a little garlic, a very small amount of sugar or a little catsup.

Chopped pickles, olives, green pepper or pimiento, chili sauce, tabasco, Worcestershire sauce, and onion juice are added in variations of salad dressings.

SALAD DRESSING

3 eggs or 6 egg yolks
1 cup water
1 cup salt
¼ cup sugar (or more)
½ cup white wine vinegar
1 tbsp. flour
1 tbsp. mustard

With whisk or spoon and then beat with egg beater until just smooth. Add one tablespoon butter and cook until mixture is thick, stirring constantly.

This dressing must be diluted when used with sweet or sour plain or whipped cream. It is quite thick. It will keep for some time in a cold place, covered.

When cooking this in small amount it is best to use a double boiler. Large amounts can be made over direct heat. In either case, stir constantly.

Viking O.O.R.P. Holds District Meeting

Viking Lodge, Order of the Royal Purple, was hostess lodge for the day on Saturday, May 23, when the annual District Meeting was held in the School Gymnasium.

The beautiful decorations and flowers of the previous evening's graduation exercises made an attractive setting for the 150 ladies who attended. Every lodge in the district was represented, namely, Wainwright, Holden, Hardisty, Irma, Kinsella, Chauvin, Edgerton, and Viking.

Registration continued from 11:00 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. during which time Mrs. Lundahl, assisted by the ladies of her group, served a very tasty luncheon. They also served mid-afternoon coffee.

The meeting was under the direction of District Deputy Supreme Honored Lady Queensa Tory of Wainwright. Corsages were presented to the H.R.L. of each lodge. The afternoon was taken up with reports from the various lodges, business, and the exemplification by each lodge of some part of the floor work. One new member was initiated by Kinsella lodge. Lady Tory was presented with an OORP emblem ring in recognition of her two years of faithful service to this district.

A delicious banquet, prepared and served by Mrs. Bruha and the staff of Rudy's Cafe, was held in the Community Hall, bringing another year to a close and the satisfaction of a very successful year for all the lodges in the work of the Order of the Royal Purple.

Pioneer newspaper woman to unveil Battleford plaque

The North-West Territories' first newspaper woman, 91-year-old Mrs. J. C. DeCear, will unveil a bronze plaque at Battleford on June 6th to mark the site of the Territories' pioneer newspaper, the "Saskatchewan Herald". Jessie DeCear, daughter of the "Herald's" founder and editor, Patrick Gammie Laurie, is the sole survivor of the Laurie family. She was her father's close associate in his printing plant wielding a typeset and setting rule with skill. On occasion, she took charge of the "Herald" when the men of the Laurie family were away.

To establish the "Herald", Laurie had to transport his heavy printing equipment 600 miles from Winnipeg to Battleford by ox-cart. The trail was without bridge or ferry, Battleford, capital of the Territorial government, at that time was a tiny village where mail arrived only once every three weeks.

Laurie published his first issue

Beating deadline emergency problems

—THE PROVINCE, Inisfail, Alta.

Editors of the weekly newspapers in Alberta, it was learned in a get-together recently, are proud of beating the deadline under adverse conditions. Usually the adverse conditions are a broken down press or linotype.

It would seem from records that only on three or four occasions have members of the Alberta Weekly Newspaper fraternity been late with an issue due to breakdowns in equipment. Illness, naturally, is a different story.

In the regularity of publication, naturally, publishers overlook the famous Bob Edwards, since his ideas of deadline and other matters of publishing a newspaper were strange to say the least.

Weekly newspaper editors, the impromptu poll recently revealed, feel that accepting copy for the coming issue is a trust that must be fulfilled regardless of the effort.

Most publishers, when they face a breakdown of equipment, hire extra help to fight the problem in overtime or buy service from trade plants.

Most weekly editors feel that a breakdown or stoppage in the back shop is a challenge that must be met to keep the promises made to readers and subscribers.

of the Herald on August 25, 1878, a 14-inch by 10-inch, four page paper. In this issue, the "Herald's" founder, Patrick Gammie Laurie, declared: "I will open this mighty region till the land shall ring again, with the tramp of a restless legion, garnering its golden grain." The paper announced that its motto would be "progress".

The telegraph line, which linked Battleford to Winnipeg and Edmonton, brought Laurie enough news to issue the paper once every two weeks. The price was $2.00 a year, to be paid in advance. Printing and binding statutes for the Territorial government brought in enough revenue to keep the paper running but never enough for Laurie to hire a printer. He was always his own compositor, reporter, pressman, book binder and editor.

The paper withstood the Riel Rebellion, although publication was spasmodic for a time. It seems Louis Riel had forgotten that his publisher was the man who had refused to manage the rebel press in Winnipeg in 1870, during the Red River Rebellion, and that he had put a price on Laurie's head.

The death of the pioneer publisher came in May, 1903, some time after the paper had become a weekly. It was carried on by "Will", "Dick", and "Jessie" Laurie. William Laurie, a journalist, lawyer and soldier, took full control of the "Saskatchewan Herald" during the First World War. He died in 1927. Major Richard Carney Laurie, was an engineer and soldier as well as a publisher. He assumed control in 1919. When he died in 1938 the paper did not survive him.

The Minister of Travel and Information, Hon. Russ Brown, will preside at the unveiling of the historic marker. The president and members of the Canadian Historical Association are among the guests expected to attend.

HIGH RETURN ON SHEEP

In Canada tax return per dollar invested is higher on sheep than any other farm animal. Sheep are the only farm animals producing a prime product—wool—from grass alone.

TURKEY—If your fancy runs to turkey but you can't handle a 20-lb. plus bird at this time, ask for a quarter or a half. The trade is offering cut-up turkey attractively packaged, as an inducement to the consumer who can't get a poult and doesn't want a heavyweight. For contrast a whole bird and a quarter are shown.

Turkeys hung, drawn and quartered

Turkey eggs set in the first three months of this year point to a potential production increase of 10 million pounds of turkey meat over the same period one year ago.

Canada Department of Agriculture officials say that from the first of the year to March 31, egg settings totalled 8.6 million.

Included in this figure are increases of 1.4 million—a 28 percent rise—for mature weight turkeys, and 803,000—or 72 percent—for broiler weights.

On the basis of a 50 percent hatch and a mortality rate of five percent, production would run close to 10 million pounds more than for the first quarter last year.

The industry entered 1959 with a staggering 18 million pounds in storage, compared with 12.5 million pounds the previous year. Egg settings for the first quarter amounted to 7.3 million pounds, 78 percent higher than for the same period in 1958 when the total was 4.1 million.

Sale of turkeys at Easter—highest in Canada's history—helped to ease the situation. Most of the light and medium weight birds were cleaned out of storage during the phenomenal holiday sales.

But the heavy stocks and the upswing in marketings have combined to sharply reduce prices. Officials say they have dropped an average of 10 cents a pound since the beginning of the year.

Many turkey producers are viewing the production boom with alarm and are wondering where it is leading them.

A normal population increase will take care of about 2.5 million pounds, and better merchandising practices, promotion, and year-around marketing will increase per capita consumption.

Also spurring sales is the comparatively new idea of half or quarter turkeys. This fills the bill for the housewife who wants turkey—but not 20 pounds of it at one time.

The agriculture department and the Poultry Products Institute are co-operating to introduce this new merchandising approach on a national scale.

Highway signs warn of forest fire danger

"Prevent Forest Fires. It Pays." These and other forest fire prevention slogans will be painted on "black-topped" highways in the Prince Albert region this month, W. R. Pappas, director of forests for Saskatchewan, said.

He said the signs—there will be eight or nine—were part of his department's fire prevention program and were meant to remind the public of the danger of forest fires. In some years, fires have cost the province more in timber losses than the total value of forest production, he stated.

Painted a bright yellow, in four-foot letters, the fire prevention messages will read: "Prevent Forest Fires. It Pays", "Help Keep Our Forests Green", and "Please Use Your Ash Tray".

They will be located on the south and north approaches of Number Two Highway to Prince Albert; near the Prince Albert National Park boundary on Highway Number Two; and on Number Three Highway, west of Prince Albert. A ninth may be painted on Number Two Highway, just west of Christopher Lake.

The sign painting will be done by a five-man crew from the branch's fire control division. Plywood letter forms are used to chalk out the sign outlines, which are then painted in with yellow traffic paint.

Saskatchewan started using the "painted-on-highway" fire prevention signs in 1951. Mr. Pappas said they had been favorably received by the public. They have an advantage over other types of highway signs because they can be read without the driver of a vehicle taking his eyes from the road.

Last year 2.1 million pounds were produced during the first three months and 5.4 million in the second quarter. The balance of the year was much lighter, ending up with a total of 9.2 million.

If the trend follows last year, the big push is yet to come.
